

North Tyneside Learning Disability Care Forum

Launch Event

The Learning Disability Care Forum is a new partnership group set up for those interested in the care, support and wellbeing of people with learning disabilities living in North Tyneside.

The Care Forum is open to everyone.

We want to tell you more about the Care Forum and hear your views about the things the Care Forum should get involved in over the next year.

Please come and join us for our launch event to learn more and find out how you can get involved.
